

Intercoder Reliability

Go to D2L folder titled Intercoder Reliability in the Assignments tab. You will find a spreadsheet there titled data. In an experiment, participants were asked in one word to state their experience on playing a game developed on a browser (desktop) and on a smartphone device.

Your homework is to go through this spreadsheet and in the empty columns classify whether you feel the word is positive or negative (about their experience). (If necessary, you may have a neutral or other category, but minimize that as much as possible.)

Submit the updated Excel file to the folder titled intercoder reliability and in class we will compare our answers with each other and discuss intercoder reliability.
